Module-1 (SDLC)

Q-1 What is software? What is software engineering?

➔ Software is a set of instruction, data, or programs used to operate computers and execute specific tasks. It contracts with hardware, which is the physical components of a computer. Software can be categorized into several types:

➔